Over the giver, under the hill, Another village lieth still;
There I see in the cloudy night,
Twinking stars of household light,
Fires that gleam from the smithy's door,
Mists that curl on the river shope;
And in the road no grasses grow,
For the wheels that hasten to and fro-

In that village on the hill In that village on the hill Never is sound of smithy or mili; The houses are thatched with grass and howers, Never a clock to toll the hours; The martle doors are always shut,
You cannot enter in hall or hut;
All the villagers he asleep;
Never again to sow or reap;
Never in decams to mean or sigh,
Silent, and idle, and lew they lie.

In that village, under the hill, When the right is turry and still, many a weary soul in prayer Looks to the other village there, And weeping and sighing, longs to go, Up to that home from this below! Longs to sleep in the forest wild, Whither have vanished wife and child, And hearing, praying, this answer fall: "Patience! that village shall held ye all!"

Dear Sir—I take pleasure in recommending your ROSADALIS as a powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other a case of scrofula, et long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try, your Rocadalis. Lat once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was ningical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well. I am yours,

Dear Sir—A few days since I sprained my nakle very severely. It was badly swollen, and very painful—I could not get on my boot. A friend gave me some of your Linheaut. I used it once only rubbed long and well at night, and the next morning was so far relieved as to be able to get on my boot and walk without limping.

I believe it to be the greatest Liniment now known, and recommend it to every one.
